Honokong, J. no 1st, 1900.

THE American Commission, which leaves us to-day for the Philippines, is composed of gentlemen of high scholastic attainments, legal knowledge and experience. If erudite professors and judicial lawyers, sustained with the world's written experience in the science of Colonial and Asiatic Government, can possibly solve the problem of giving the greatest conceivable happiness and liberty to a subject people by wise laws and regulations, the Commission sent by President McKinley seem to possess all the elements that make for success. But although the Commission may be, and are, endowed with high sentiments with respect to their mission and the responsibility attaching to their efforts, it is too much to expect; in the present disorganised and elementary stage of government now existing in the Philippines, with no reserves of experienced men versed in Colonial Government to fall back upon or to take into counsel, that the Commissioners, however richly endowed, however noble in sentiment, however anxious to ameliorate the existing state of things or however vigorous, capable, or eager for work, can make any rapid progress.

The Commissioners enter upon a task must be slow of growth and almost inper- assist the Police in maintaining good order a higher civilization and a better regime Hongkong Government with respect to opinion.

But while we consider the difficulties before the Commissioners to be great, an I, as we have endeavoured to show, greater in comparison than the difficulties that would naturally surround a similar British Commission, the situation is not without hope nor without a fair prospect of much. amelioration. The conditions prevailing in the Philippines at the present time are such that a tactful and all-resourceful administrator may obtain a wide-world and historical reputation. The galling rule of Spain is still deeply seated in the memory of the Filipino people. The Military Government of the United States with its many attendant impossibilities of reform, crude and am teur modes of administration, is capable of vast relief under a Civil régime, however des itute it may be of the bighest material of officials on its inception. The natural SUL IMPORTERS for Hongkong desire of the Filipinos to share in the administration of their own country is a factor that the Commissioners would do well to regard with respect and by a just discrimination to encourage. This really acted as a poll tax, but it was not so much against the tax itself that the Filipinos protested as against the necessity of being registered and always carrying about an objectionable paper of identification. The Filipinos were not treated as honest men worthy to breathe God's air in peace, but as a criminated and criminating class. Thus arose the unpopularity of Spain. Under the Military Government of the United States the excessive 2) cents imposed instead, but the Filipinos are still obliged to carry the abhorrent registration paper ond consider themselves degraded in the eyes of the civilized world. It is very questionable whether this zeal for registration is productive of any good or serves the purpose for which it was intended, viz., to furnish a certificate of the Canadian Mail was the "opinion" of the days of prayer, for humiliation, the confession respectability. The latest sensation in Seoul, says the Japan Mail, seems to have been connected with the Government's desire to borrow half a million of yen for coinage purposes. "Corea has adopted the gold standard, but for her the measure has remained a magnificent abstraction, for she has no gold. Her attempt to carry the system into practice did not extend beyond establishing a mint at Chemulpo, where some nicked coins were struck. Recently she moved the machinery to Yong-san, but then the difficulty occurred that she had no metal to coin nor working capital for the mint. It was under these circumstances that she signified her desire to borrow half a million, and a favourable response was at once received from various quarters, each of the would be creditors having an axe, or several axes, of his own to grind, in the form of concessions. While all were haggling, the sharp American, Mr. Hunt, stepped in and became the successful party. So it is said at any rate, but rumour does not undertake to explain what conditions are attached. The Jiji Shimpo's special correspondent adds that a Japanese also would fain have lent the money but he condomns the Japanese method of procedure as wanting in wiliness. The way 'to get' the Corean is not to frighten him at first by a big proposal, but to put forward some insignificant tride as a bait, and then gradually to draw him on and entangle him until he has no choice but to be pliant. The Japanese attach more importance to the signature of Mr. Brown than to that of the Emperor himself. That is where they make a mistake. Mr. Brown's signature may be more trustworthy, but there is much more capital to be made out of an uninplemented promise which has received the

IN APPELLATE JURISDICTION.

BEFORE HIS HONOUR SIR JOHN CARRING TON, KT., C.M.G. (CHIEF JUSTICE) AND HIS HONOUR T. SERCOMBE SMITH (Puisse Judge.)

CHAN KIT BAN AND ANOTHER, APPELLANTS, V. HO FUNG WANG, RESPONDENTS. The Chief Justice gave judgment as follows:-The Respondent in this case moves the Court to set aside the order of the Court made ex parte on the 26th March, 1900, granting leave to the Appellants to appeal to Her Majesty in Council from the decision of the Court delivered on the 14th March, 1900, in favour of the Respondent. The grounds on which the motion is moved are. 1st, that the decision was neither a final judgment, decree or sentence nor a rule or order having the effect of a final or definitive sentence. and, 2nd, that there was no satisfactory evidence before the Court that the decision was given or pronounced for or in respect of a sum or matter at issue above the amount or value of five hundred pounds sterling, or that the decision involves, directly or indirectly, the title to property or to some civil right exceeding the value. of five hundred pounds starling. The facts relating to the proceedings out of which the motion has grown may be shortly The Respondent (the Plaintiff in the Court below) as administrator of the estate of Hol Shek, deceased, claimed to have an account taken of the partnership dealings between the deceased and the appellants (the Defendants in the Court below) in the Yan Wo and Yi Li opium shops, in which the deceased was a partner. To this claim the appellants by their answer set up two defences, namely, 1st, that they were not partners in the Yi Li firm and that the deceased was not a partner and had no share in the Yan Wo firm, and 2nd that the claim, if there ever had been any sufficient

Limitations. After the pleadings had been closed the appellants took out a summons asking that the what were the material questions in controversy between the parties and settle such questions in nexed a copy of draft issues of fact and of law. Before this summons was heard the parties came to an agreement that an issue of law; in the nature of a demuirer on the point of the Statute of Limitations, should be tried before accordingly made to that effect. The issue was in these terms:- 'Assuming that all the facts stated in the petition are true, is or is not the Plaintiff's claim herein barred by the Statute of Limitations." This issue was accordingly tried before Acting Chief Justice Goodman, and on the 21st December, 1899, he decided it in favour of the Respondent. The appellants appealed from this decision to the full Court, but the decision was affirmed on the 14th March, 1900, by this Court. consisting of Mr. Justice Wise and myself. The appellants then presented to the full Court a petition praying for leave to appeal from the decision to Her Majesty in Council and on motion made ex parte this Court consisting of the same Judges made an order granting such leave. By the present motion the Respondent seeks to have this order set aside.

The determination of the first ground stated in the motion turns upon the construction to be placed upon the first paragraph of the additional Royal Instructions of the 21st January. 1846, which make provision for permitting and regulating appeals to Her Majesty in Council from the Supreme Court of Hongkong in Civil suits or actions. Such an appeal is to be "against any final judgement, decrea, or sentence or against any rule or order made in any such civil suit or action and having the effect of a final or definitive sentence." is alleged on behalf of the Respondent that the decision from which leave to appeal. was granted was a decision upon a preliminary issue only and was not a final judgement or order within the meaning of the paragraph. In support of this contention it is urged that the decision does not dispose of the controversy between the parties, but only clears away the contention raised with respect to the applicability of the Statue of Limitations. leaving the parties to litigate the matter to a final determination on the facts. On the other hand it is said on behalf of the appellants that the decision is final in its effect as regards them at any rate, since it disposes of a ground of defence to the suit which they believe to ought to be, would put an end to the suit. It is carious what a small amount of judicial interpretation seems to have been placed upon the words above quoted and upon similar words having operation in other colonies with respect to the right of appeal. I will refer to a few appeal. cases of such interpretation decided by the Judicial Committee. In In re Nalion et al., 2 Knapp 66, it was held, on appeal from the Supreme Court of Gibraltar, that an order of that Court directing the appellants, who has been apprehended under a writ of ne exeat regne, to appear to the cause, was not a final judgment or order from which an appeal would lie. In Macfarlane et al. v. Leclaire et cet, 15

Moore P.C.C. 181, the appeal was against a judgment or a writ of saisie arrêt, or attachment before judgment of goods of the defendant in the action in the hands of the appellants, I pronounced for or in respect of a sum or matter the said judgment having declared that those goods were liable to the respondent's claim. It was contended on behalf of the respondents that the judgment was interlocutory merely, and therefore, that an appeal against it was prema-ture, "But," said Lord Chelmsford, "although the judgment is interlocutory in form, it is final in its effect upon the rights of the appollants. The goods which they claim as their own are finally and conclusively fixed by the judgment to be the property of the original debtor, and must be applied in satisfaction of his debts, and there is no mode by which the appellants can be relieved from it except by an

In Esnouf v. The Attornoy-General for Jersey, 8 App. Cas. 304, it was held that an order of Court directing a defendant to plead to an information (or other analogous proceeding) for libel, and directing that, having pleaded, he should be tried without a jury, was not a defini-

In Rabimbhoy Hubbibhoy'v. Turner, cited in Wheeler's Privy Council-Law p. 776, there was a petition for special leave to appeal, leave having been refused in the Court below on the ground that the decree was not a final one. The decree directed that accounts should be taken which the appellant contended should not be taken at all, and it was held by the Judicial Committee that the real question in issue in the suit was the liability of the appellant to pay something on each of the claims against him, if only the arithmetical result of account should be worked out against him, and that question had been determined against him in such a way that in that suit it was final. Accordingly, leave to appeal was granted.

It was pointed out by Mr. Francis that an appeal is admitted to Her Majesty in Council from an order refusing a motion for a new trial or from an order discharging or making absolute a rule misi for a new trial. On this point see amongst other cases Trouson v. Dent. 8 Moore P.C.C. 419, on appeal from this Court. Yet it may be said that such an order is not "an order having the effect of a final or definitive sentence" in any event, since, if the order is for a new trial, the cause is re-opened between the parties and its final determination abides by the result of the new trial. And the fact of appeals from such orders being competent would seem to show that the rule laid down by the Court of Appeal in Salaman v. Warner, [1891] 19 B 734, with regard to what are final judgments and orders under Order 58 Rule 3 of the English Rules of Court, cannot be regarded as an authority on the construction of the words in the Royal Instructions which are now under consideration. In confirmation of this view it may be observed that the Court of Appeal has expressly decided that an order discharging a rule for a new trial is an interlocutory, and not a final, order within the rule just mentioned: Wilks v. Judge, W. N. [1880.] It must be borne in mind that under the English Practice the right of appeal exists with respect to both interlocutory and final judgments and orders, and that the decisions as to the one of those two classes within which the cases severally full turn upon the questions of the length of notice required for the appeals. Then it was said by Mr. Pollock for the Respondent that this appeal is premature and that the appellants should have deferred the making of it until the case had been determined on the merits. But let us consider what practical consequences would, or at any rate might, follow if this argument were to provail. Suppose that the appellants real defence to the suit is the Statute of Limitations, and that they feel that they have no chance of making out a defence on the facts. Yet, ex hypothesi, when the hearing of the suit is concluded they must either appeal against the judgment on the whole case, that is, a judgment involving separate issues of law and of fact, when they gounds for it, was barred by the Statute of | do not desire to challenge the judgment on the issues of fact, or they must appeal against the julyment only in so far as it decides the point of law, in which case the hearing of the Court should proceed to ascertain and determine issues of fact will have involved a mere waste of time and money. If the issues of fact have been tried by a jury their plight will be even worse. the form of issues. To this summons was un- | for, if his contention is sound, they may be told that, in order to obtain their appeal, they must challenge the adverse verdict by a motion for a new trial—a thing that they may have no hope of doing with success. On the whole I think the balance of convenience is in favour of allowany other issues in the suit, and an order was ling the appellants to put forward at once by way of appeal their contention that the decision of this Court on their defence of the Statute of Limitations is wrong, and that a right decision on that defence will dispose once for all of the Respondent's claim. For these reasons I think that the motion fails in respect of the first of the two grounds on which it is founded. With regard to the second of these two grounds not very much need be said. It is alleged that there is no satisfactory evidence before the Court that the subject matter of the suit is of an appealable value. This evidence consists of an affidavit by Mr. C. Ewens, the solicitor for the appellants, to the effect that the value of the shares in the two firms of Yan Wo and Yi Li claimed by the Respondent and of the matter at issue in the suit or of the property the title to which is involved by the order appealed against in the suit, is above the value of £500 sterling." Mr. Pollock said that the affidavit as to the value should have been made not by the solicitor but by the appellants or by the managers of the firms in question. But I do not see why the solicitor should not satisfy himself, by examination of the books of the firms or otherwise, as to the value of the shares and depose to such value accordingly. At any rate he makes the statement positively and there is no counter affidavit and no suggestion that he is mistaken in flxing the value. think, therefore, that his statement may be accepted as sufficiently satisfactory evidence on the question of value.

The result on the whole matter is that, in my opinion, the motion should be refused, but as the main point raised by it is one of consideable difficulty and very well deserves to be argued and as the Court is divided in opinion, I think there should be no order as to costs.

The Puisne Judge said .- In suit No. 8 of 1899, in which the plaintiff as administrator of the estate and effects of one Ho I-shek, deceased. claims to have an account taken of the partnership dealings between the said deceased and the defendants, an order was, on the 1st December, 1899, made by the Court that an issue in the nature of a demurrer on the point of the Statute of Limitations should be tried before any other good and valid and which, if allowed, as it issues in the suit.

On 21st December, 1899, Goodman, Acting Chief Justice, decided that the plaintiff's claim was not barred by the Statute of Limitations, and on 14th March, 1900, his decision was upheld on

On the 26th March, 1900, an order was made ex parte by the Full Court granting leave to the defendants to appeal to Her Majesty in Council from the decision of the 14th March. On the 8th May, 1900, plaintiff by his council moved to have the order of the 26th March set sside on the two grounds-(1) That the decision of the 14th March appealed from was neither a final judgment, decree, or sentence nor a rule or order having the effect of a final or definitive sentence: (2) That there was no satisfactory evidence before the Court that such decision was given or directly or indirectly the Title to Property or sidered by the said directors to be a fit perto some Civil Right exceeding the value of five hundred pounds sterling. Accordingly, the first question before the Court is whether the judgment of the 14th March was a final judgment or not. No case was cited which showed the meaning which had been attached to the term jinal judgment so as to constitute it a judgment from which an appeal, subject to certain condition of amount and security, would lie as of right to the Privy Council. On the one hand, the cases cited on behalf of the plaintiff decided what was or what was not a final order under Order LVIII, and its rules as regards the time for appealing from such an pears to me to be not a final judgment, My conclusion therefore is that the judgement of the 14th March last was not a final judgment; that it was not a judgment in respect of which leave to appeal to the Privy Council should have been granted and that the motion to set aside the order made on the 26th March last giving leave to appeal to the Privy Council should be allowed with costs.

This being so, I am not called on to decide whether the appealable value had been reached The Chief Justice.—The order of the Court then will be that the motion be refused and that there be no order as to costs. MB. HO TUNG AND THE MAN ON INSUBANCE COMPANY. The Puisne Judge said-On 26th February, 1900, judgment was delivered by the Chief Justice discharging an order calling upon the Man On Insurance Co., Ltd., to show cause why the register, of members of the Company should not be rectified in respect of eleven specified shares by removing from the register the names of the transferors of the shares and substituting therefore the name He Tung, the transferce as the holder of such shares.

Having failed in his first attempt to get his name put on the register of members of the Man On Company in respect of those eleven shares, Ho Tung obtained, on the 26th April an order ex parts that notice should be served on the Man On Company, that a motion filed on 7th April would be heard before the Full Court on a given day. The motion filed on 7th April was that the register of members of the Man On Company might be rectified by removing the names of the transferors of 108 specified shares other than the 11 shares already mentioned and substituting therefore the name of Ho Tung, the transferce, as the proprietor of auch shares. A Judge's summons to set aside the order of 26th April was taken out by the Man On Compuny, and the hearing came on before the Full Court on 9th May, when the summons was allowed to be treated as a motion, subject to a proper notice of motion being filed by the said Company. Certain preliminary objections were taken by the Man On Company, but were abandoned in favour of an objection going to the merits, subject to the reservation of a question of costs as regards the form of the proceedings.

The objection on the merits was that the motion filed on the 7th April and order to be heard before the Full Court raised precisely the same questions and no others than those that had already been raised and decided between the same parties by the judgment of 26th February, discharging an order to show cause.

Mr. Francis for the Company conceded that the matter was strictly res judicata, but contented (1) that the identical questions raised in the motion filed on 7th April were raised in the motion filed on 5th February, and were heard, before the Chief Justice on 16th and 17th February, and determined by him on 26th February, and (2) that the Court ought to exercise its inherent jurisdiction and stay further proceedings on the ground that the present proceedings are frivolous and vexatious and an abuse of the process of the Court. According to the judgment of the Chief Justice delivered on 26th February, the following questions had arisen for decision-(a) whether the registered Articles of Association of the Man On Company were valid or invaild (b) whether, if the said Articles were invalid, the regulations contained in Table A. of the First Schedule to the Companies Ordinance. 1865, applied to the Company and rendered were valid. He Tung was entitled upon a proper construction of them and in the circumstances of the case to have the transfers registered. On behalf of He Tung, Mr. Slade admitted that the points of law raised on the earlier motion were raised on the later motion, with this difference—that in the present case the Man On Company have absolutely refused to consider the new applications. The facts also, it was submitted, were not the same, for the shares are different and purchased at different times under different contracts, and the applicant. Ho Tung, is not now in the same relation to the Company as he was on the former occasion. Let me first take the different points of law alleged to exist, viz., that the Man On Co., have now absolutely refused to consider the new applications in respect of the 108

In a further case of Junior Canon of St. Pauls v. As another illustration of the grounds on which a Court will exercise its inherent jurisdiction to stay proceedings I may montion the case of Lawrance v. HAND CHINESE DICTIONARY. WITH THE PUNTI AND MANDARIN PRONUNCIATION.

For comprehensiveness and practical service this Work stands unrivalled. All the new words which the Chinese have of late years been compelled to coin to express the numerous objects in machinery, photography, telegraphy, and in science generally, which the rapid advance of foreign relations has imposed upon them, are here given in extenso. Each and every word is fully illustrated and explained, forming exercises for students of a most instructive nature. Both the Court and Punti pronunciations are given. the accents being carefully marked on the best principle hitherto attained. The typography displays the success of an attempt to make the Chinese and English type correspond in the size of body, thereby effecting a vast economy of space, achieving a clearness not previously attained, and dispensing with those vast margins and vacant spaces which have heretofore charactorized Chinese publications.

To illustrate the vast scope of the work the following facts are submitted for consideration :-Chalmers' Vocabulary contains about 16,000 Chinese characters, and Medhurst's English and Chinese Dictionary about 100,000, whilst this work contains more than 50,000 English words, and upwards of 600,000 Chinese characters. Again, despite all the grammars and of other elementary works as yet published, the of student of this difficult language absolutely reby quires examples to display the various applications and equivalents of differ at words which have one general meaning. Of these examples this work contains more than five times as many as any other Dictionary hitherto pub-

For practical purposes the arrangement of of Her Majesty the Queen, for one further | the work is so complete that a reference to its pages onables a person who understands English to communicate effectively with natives who understand nothing but Chinese. In this respect the work will be found indispensable to all Europeans residing in China, and to the natives themselves it explains subjects fully with which very few indeed of them are perfectly acquainted. To parties resident in England and interested in China it cannot but be invaluable occasion-

It comprises upwards of two thousand large 4 Vols. IMPERIAL QUARTO, Price $20. A Large REDUCTION in PRICE is made to Purchasers of SIX or more Copies.

From all sub-tropical planting settlements we have had cordial approval of the publication and an encouraging measure of support. ## HELPLESS CRIPPLE!

N. Bengert, of Norborne, says: For nineteen months I lay a helpless cripple from Rhonmatism. The weight of my body was reduced from 170 lbs. to 130 lbs., a proof of the terrible pain I had to endage. During all this time. I sought a cure, but after using everything I heard of, such as: animents, electricity. Turkish Baths, and above ill uselessly employing physicians, I considered myself incarable, expecially so, when the last physician told me that he would not accordant more money from me, as the case was beyond the human grasp. At this time I noticed your advertisement in one of the morning papers. I ordered Little's Oriental Baira with very little confidence, but I was surprised after using 2 to 3 bottles. I was greatly improved and the continged use of your wonderful remedy cared me, with the help of God, of Rheamatism. For my part I shall do all in my power to spread its merits. WY WONG CHI_KOON is one of the largest Native Drug shops in Canton, employing about 300 men. The Proprietor, Mr. U Yam Ting, is a man of great energy and business capacity, and is also very benevolent, giving away thousands of deliars worth of medicine in charity, usually with an eye to the main offchance. He has many testimonials as to the efficiency of his medicines from officials, scholars and business mon. Like the Chinese generally he has great faith in medicine and is desirous of extending his business to foreign countries. giving people of western lands the benefit of his medicines. He has submitted to me the formulas of some of his preparations for examination, giving full explanation as to the medical qualities of the ingredient. I have found the Tung Kwan San or Army Medical Powder and the Tit Ta San or Falling and Bruising Medical Powder composed of Musk. Barovs. Camphor, Rhuharb, two kinds of gam, with red oxide of mercury and vollow sulphide of arsenic, animal and vegetable charcoal, which are known in western plurmacy. Besides this it contains gold leaf, tigers and dragons bones, shavings of antelope and rhinocoros horns, which I have shown him that chemical science proves to be inert, he proposes to omit from the medicine prepared for foreign use. The medicine is to be chiefly used as a sternutatory, as is put up in small metal bottles by which is can be injected into the nestrils. The small amount of oxide of mercury and sulphide of arsenic will not be dangerous used in this way.

Directions are given according to the Chineses method of using the medicines. The nature of the oil is very mild, but its action is exceedingly good, possessing wondefully curative effects in both internal and external diseases. As it is an invaluable medicine it should be kept on hand ready for use by all persons, whether at home or abroad. DIRECTIONS. For external use rub the oil on the temples, forehead, between the eyebrows, back of the cars and nack, on the chest and back, on the abdomen or wherever the pain or soreness is ocated. It must be rubbed on for 5 minutes. For toothache put a little in the tooth on cotton and rub on the gums. The oil has beneficial offects in headache, fainting, colds, sore throat, stemach ache, colic pains, rheumatism, numbness of the limbs, pain in the back, cramp, local swelling and inflammations, influenza, diarrhoa, toothache, pains in the head and convalsions after childbirth, prickly heat, boils, and mosquito bites.

water, and it is to be repeated every two or three hours, at the same time using it externally. The proprietor of the Kwong Chi Koon Drug Store of Canton has placed in my hands for examination a number of his preparations

Internally the dose is five drops in a little with the receipe for each. His "U I YAU" " As you wish Oil" has a wide circulation and is very much used. It is composed of aromatic and stimulant herbs and barks, most of which are well known in our pharmacopoeia, together with pingpin (a costly kind of camphor) bishops wort, orris root, with two or three other less known articles, but none TSIN, NEWCHWANG and all Ports in of the objectionable substances which onter into many Chinese medicines. It is one of the combinations which has real merits and it is not strange that it has attained so wide a reputation for the relief of maddies for which it is recommended. (Signed) Docton J. G. KERR, Canton Hospital,
